

PRESS RELEASE

20th February 2009

The UK's only green radio station Passion for the Planet, is sponsoring the "Project of the Year" award at this year's Rosenblatt New Energy Awards.

The ceremony will take place at the Natural History Museum on Wednesday 25th February, where Zac Goldsmith will be the event's keynote speaker.

The Rosenblatt New Energy Awards is a spectacular event in the renewable energy sector, recognising the achievements of management teams, companies and projects that have made a significant contribution to this sector during the past 12 months.

Over 500 CEOs, MDs, FDs, advisers, venture capitalists and financiers attend this annual event.

"Since its launch nearly seven years ago Passion for the Planet has publicised and supported the Cleantech sector, so it's great to have Passion's team on board for these Awards." said Tessa Laws, partner at Rosenblatt.

Passion for the Planet is the UK's only radio station focused on health and environmental issues, providing solutions to help people live a greener, more ethical lifestyle.

Passion for the Planet reaches over 90,000 across London and the south of England on DAB Radio and also broadcasts nationwide via the Internet at www.passionfortheplanet.com.

Passion for the Planet's Managing Director and co-founder, Chantal Cooke will be presenting the award on the night.

"These awards are an important way of showcasing what this innovative and fast growing sector is doing to help us have a future powered by clean energy. Anything we can do to support the pioneers in this area can only be a good thing," said Chantal Cooke.

The seven companies shortlisted in the Project of the Year category are;

- Clipper Windpower
- Renewable Energy Holdings
- G24 Innovations
- Co-operative Group
- John Laing Investments
- Continental Wind
- BT

The other categories are; Company of the Year, Entrepreneur of the Year, Developer of the Year, IPO of the Year, Retailer of the Year, Investor of the Year, University Spin-out of the Year, Adviser of the Year, New Energy Rising Star.

The Rosenblatt New Energy Awards supports the "Healthy Planet Foundation" which exists to encourage and support businesses and consumers around the world to make a difference for us and for future generations. www.healthyplanet.org
